THOUSANDS IN LINE TO PAY TRIBUTE

All Branches of National, State and Municipal Governments To Be Represented in the Great Funeral Procession of General Sherman.

FATHER TOM ARRIVES ON THE MAJESTIC.

The Idolized Son of the General Reaches Here in Time to Officiate at the Services.

VIEWING THE BODY AT THE HOUSE

Gratitude and Affection of His Countrymen Which He Craved Awarded to His Memory.

PRESIDENT HARRISON AND CABINET REACH THE CITY.

From New York to St. Louis Grand Army Posts Will Salute the Train as It Passes.

The Mojestic arrived at Sandy Hook last night, having on board the Rev. Thomas Ewing Sherman, S. J., the son of the dead General. The vessel arrived at Quarantine about halfpast eleven. The Rev. Father Henry Van Reusselner, S. J., had been waiting at Quarantine nearly all day.

The United States revenue cutter Chandler, in command of Captain Smith, was placed by the government at the disposal of the friends of the priest. Captain Smith had orders to land Father Sherman at any point he wished.

When the Majestie dropped anchor at Quarantine the doctor's boat and the revenue cutter put out to her. Late as was the hour there was a big crowd of passengers on deck when the cutter came alongside. Father Sherman was not wholly unprepared for the transfer when two Custom House officers and Dr. Smith's deputy came on board the big ship, and right after them Father Van Rensselaer.

HEARS OF HIS FATHER'S DEATH. "How is my father?" asked the traveller. The pilot who had previously boarded the ship did not know of the General's death. It remained for Father Van Rensselaer to break the news.

Father Van Rensselaer led the way down to the Chandler and took his old classmate into the captain's cabin. There the sad news was told Father Sherman, and it was a great blow to him.

It was the second time he had received sad news under similar circumstances. In his mother's last illness the young man was studying at Woodstock, in Maryland. The telegraph wires had broken down and the message to him to come home at once was conveyed to him on a freight train. When the anxious student reached his home the first he knew of his mother's death was from the crape on the

Now again he came home too late to receive a parent's last blessing. It was a fine starlight night, but Father Sherman took little heed of that. He was listening eagerly to what his friend told him of the last hours of his father. Father Van Rensselaer said he hardly boped that Father Sperman would be in time even for the funeral. A few hours longer and he would have been too late.

TO THE HOUSE OF DEATH,

Captain Smith landed the priests at West Twenty-third street, and from there a carriage conveyed them to the late General's home. They were expected, for when the Majestic was sighted off Fire Island at nine o'clock a telegram was sent to the house in Seventy-first Street.

It was after one o'clock this morning when Father Sherman reached the house. He went at once to the room where the body lay, and after gazing for a few moments on the face of his dead father the priest knelt down beside the coffin and prayed.

Father Sherman remained with his sorrowing family for the rest of the morning.

At last the day has come when the city of New York will bid farewell forever to its great adopted citizen, William Tecumseh Sherman.

A memorable day indeed. Not in this generation will the city see another like it. A day to be remembered by the aged veterans and by the youthful school children. A day that will be marked in the annals of history, the closing day of a great era as well as a great career.

The details of the great spectacular valedictory have all been completed, and twenty thousand men will be in line. The city and the villages for miles around will help to swell the multitude, and there will be an outpouring such as has not been seen bere since that never-to-beforgotten day when the body of General Grant was borne with tears to the green hillside above the Hudson.

The house was thrown open to all who came vesterday from ten o'clock to five, and a steady and ever growing stream of visitors filed in and took a final look at Sherman. School children railroad statious en route from New York to St.

Louis and salute the remains as they pass."

For four hours to-day the city will keep sad holiday. The exchanges will be closed and many places of business will iollow suit. It is to be hoped that the observance will be general. It is not too small a tribute straid of the president and Mrs. John Sherman.

It is not too small a tribute straid to straid straid to straid the clies of mourners who will precede the President and his Cabinet and follow immediately after the palibearers:

Rev. T. E. Sherman, Misses Elizabeth and Rachel Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Fitch, Mr. and Mrs. W. The Soventh sub-division, Courade James H. Jenuary the precedent of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue, facing east, right resting at northwest corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and Eighth avenue. In the southers are corner of Sixty-first street and It is not too small a tribute, surely, to pay to the man who gave of his best years, his genius and his blood to save the pation from disruption.

ARRIVAL OF THE PRESIDENT.

THE FIFTH AVENUE HOTEL LOBBY THE SCENE OF

AN INTERESTING GALAXY OF STATESMEN. The President of the United States is in the city. Accompanied by Vice President Morton and his Cabinet he left Washington at half-past three o'clock yesterday afternoon and reached the Fifth Avenue Hotel about ten o'clock last night. A special train of four cars brought the Presidential party from the capital and the trip was made in good time and without incident.

The first car contained the President,
Mr. Harrison; the Vice President, Mr. Morton; Secretary of State James G. Blaine, Mrs. Blaine and Mr. Emmons Blaine; Secretary of War Redfield Proctor, Secretary of the Navy Benjamin F. Tracy, Secretary of the Interior John W. Noble, Postmaster General John Wanamaker, Attorney General W. H. H. Miller, Acting Secretary of the Treasury A. B. Nettleton, Secretary of Agri-W. Halford.

In the other cars were Colonel Ernst, Major General Schofield and staff, Quartermaster General Batchelder, Assistant Secretary of War Lewis A. Grant, General Henderson, of Illinois; General Grosvenor, of Ohio; General Cutcheon, of Michigan; General] Cogswell, of Massachusetts, and Messrs. Outhwaite, of Ohio; Dunphy and Cummings, of New York; Kinsey of Mississippi, and Tarsney, of Missouri.

The last named nine gentlemen are a committee from the House of Representatives, appointed to attend the Sherman obsequies. General Cutcheon is chairman of the committee.

Mr. Dunphy is present instead of General Spinola, whose wife's illness prevents him from attending.
Sergeant-at-Arms A. J. Holmes is in charge of the Congressmen.

Sergeant-at-Arms A. J. Holmes is in charge of the Congressmen.
Senators Evaris, Hawley, Manderson and Cockrell, are expected to arrive at seven o'clock this morning and put up at the Plaza Hotel.

Mr. Blaine and Mrs. Blaine and Mr. Emmons Blaine went to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine's daughter. Mrs. Walter Damrosch.

On the arrival of the Presidential and Congressional party at the Fifth Avenue Hotel the beautiful and spacious, as well as historic, white and gold corridors of that famous establishment took on the appearance of an extraordinary occasion.

The days—or nights, rather—preceding the Grant obsequies were vividly recalled.

There was a marked difference in the character of the men.

There was a marked difference in the character he men.
General Legan was among the throng then.
He is dead.
General McClellan was among the throng then.
He is dead.

He is dead. General Phil Sheridan was among the throng

General Phil Sheridan was among the throng then.

He is dead also, and so goes the roll of death. Sherman, too, had been among the throng.

Alas' it is his own funeral this time.

And then there were Johnstone, Buckner, Gordon, Fitzhugh Lee, Early and other ex-Confederate generals, who comented the union of North and South with tears over their dead conqueror.

Statesmen were on every hand. Here and there was a black slouch hat with gold and black braid and tassels around the brim, indicating a Grand Army man.

The President and Vice President went to their rooms at once and were not seen in the lobby. But Mr. Proctor, with his rural black beard, leaned against a column with his hands behind him, locking about and chatting desultorily with first one friend and then another.

ANECOTES OF SHERMAN.

Secretary Noble recalled some of General Sherman's stories, particularly those the gallant old warrior told him when, two years ago, the writer and colonel Lawrence kip were his escort from the Spring House to Mr. Noble's suite in the Earlington Hotel at Richfield Springs.

Smooth faced Postmater.

Smooth faced Postmater.

Joseph Choate, the lawyer, inquired at the desk crowd.

Tom Proctor, of Richfield Springs, who had entertained General Sherman at his hotel many at time, was conspicuous for his stature and geniality. Superintendent Lovejoy, who has been the body-guard for all the Presidents of late years when they have been at the Fifth Avenue—Grant, Garfield, Arthur, Hayes, Clevaland and Harrison—as well as all the big guns of the political world, was solemn of mien; he feels that all his great friends are passing away.

More omnibus communits.

SHOULDER TO SHOULDER.

PROGRAMME OF THE GREAT PROCESSION WHICH

WILL ESCORT THE BODY TO THE FERRY. Arrangements for the military and civil escori were completed yesterday and the final orders given. Many of the buildings along the line of march will be suitably draped and some of the

The Fifth Avenue Hotel, the Union League Club and other conspicuous buildings will be draped in

The pillars on both Fifth avenue and Thirty. ninth street, at the Union League Club, were yesterday swathed in the sombre emblem of death and the porch at the Fifth Avenue Hotel was likewise covered, the effect last night, when the elec

FLOCKING TO THE BIER. tric lights shone amid the black, suggesting the stars of night. Doubtless everybody in New York who shall have been able to obtain a standing place will be spectators of the sad spectacle to day when the funeral cortege takes up its line of march. The funeral escort will naturally be imposing as well as picturesque. Thousands of soldiers will be in line with their colors, their uniforms, their bayonets and their

The President of the United States, his Cabinet, a committee from Congress, member: of the Legislature, Governors of the States and distinguished took a final look at Sherman. School children and veterans stood side by side in the flower representation of the Lorge flower f mented burden.

Following is the list of mourners who will precede the carriages of the President and his Cabinet and follow immediately after the pailbearers:

Rev. T. E. Sherman, Misses Elizabeth and Rachel Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Fitch, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Thackara and P. Tecumseb Sherman, Senator and Mrs. John Sherman, Major Hoys Sherman, the youngest brother, and Mrs. Frank Wiborg, of Cincinnati, his daughter, Mr. Henry Sherman, nephew, and General and Mrs. Frank Wiborg, of Cincinnati, his daughter, Mr. Honnas Ewing.

Mr. Henry Sherman, nephew, and General and Mrs. Thomas Ewing.
Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hoyt and General and Mrs. Nelson A. Miles.
Mr. Charles Sherman, Mrs. Colgate Hoyt and Mr. Henry Hoyt.
Senator and Mrs. Don Cameron, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Probasco, of Cincinnati. Both ladies are nelces.

Dr. and Mrs. William R. Otis and Mrs. Henry

Dr. and Mrs. William E. Otis and Mrs. Henry Hoyt.
Miss Ewing, Miss May Hoyt and Mr. H. W. Hoyt.
Miss Ewing, Sherman Moulton, Mr. William
Ewing and Mr. Thomas Ewing, Jr.
Miss Annie Hoyt, Mr. Hampton Ewing and Mr.
Arthur Sherman
Mr. Benjamin Thackara, Mr. Charles Ewing, Jr.:
Miss Elizabeth Thackara, granddaughter, and Miss Virgiois Ewing. All of these are connections by blood or marriage.
James G. Blaine, Mrs. Walter Damrosch, Mrs.
Eliza Scott, J. M. Barrett, Mr. William Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Ballou Hall, Mr. and Mrs. John Scott, Mr.
and Mrs. Bowle Dash, Rev. and Mrs. William Brown,
Mr. and Mrs. T. Elliott, Mr. James Scott, Mrs. General Grant, Colonel John M. Bacon, Colonel Elliot
Daytou, Mrs. Guirk, Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Alexander, U. S. A.; Miss Alexander and Miss L. Alexander, Mr.
and Mrs. Brisbane Walker, Mrs. John Lynch, Mrs.
Emmeline Kane, Mr. James W. Collier, Miss Morgan, Mrs. General Judson Kilpatrick and Dr. Robert H. Green.

After the family and relatives will come the general order of the line beginning with President Harrison and Vice President Morton, the ex-President Harrison and Vice President Morton, the ex-President Harrison and Vice President Morton, the ex-President Mr. Joseph Cheats and Chauncay M. Depew; committees of the Senate and Chauncay M. Depew; committees of the Senate and House of Representatives: Lieutenant Governor Jones, of the State of New York. And Mayor Graut, of the city of New York. Following the President in carriages will be Benjamin Field, Archbishop Corrigan, Hamilton Fial, D. O. Mills, Senator W. M. Evarts. Edward Cooper, Abram S. Hewitt, David Dudley Field, Archbishop Injon, of Philadelphia; A. J. Drexel, G. W. Childs, D. Metcalf, H. K. Enc. Hiram Hitchcock, General Golonel L. M. Dayton, all aids to General Sherman during the Taylor. Cyrus W. Field, Augustin Daly, General H. T. Collis, Rev. Manuel Van Rensselaer, General Fitz John Porter, Richard Rutter, Rev. J. Mackay-Smith, Logan G. Murray, A. M. Paimer, M. W. Cooper and Stephen B. Eikins.

As representative mourners there will be, following the family, the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States and officers of the army and navy, the Grand Army of the Républic, the Corps of Cadets, United States Military Academy, Lieutenant Colonel Hawkins communding; the National Guard, under Brigadier General Louis Fitzgersld, and delegates and representatives from veterans, sons of veterans and other organizations, unassigned, under command of General David Morrison.

marshal.

General Horace Porter will accompany President Harrison; General M. D. Leggett will accompany the Cabinet Ministers; General Floyd Clarkson will be in charge of the Grand Army, and General Robert Nugent, formerly of General Sherman's staff, will take charge of the veterans at Desbrosses street, while General H. E. Tremaine will have charge of the veteran orgunizations in columns other than the Grand Army. Mr. Killaca Van Rensselaer will accompany the carriages of relatives. Other aids appointed by Generals Slocum and

Other alds appointed by Generals Moduli and Howard are:—Mr. Loyall Farragut, Caplain H. P. Kingsbury, Sixth cavalry, Captain A. M. Wetherill, Sixth infantry, First Lieutenant L. A. Craig, Sixth cavalry, First Lieutenant Guy Howard, Twelfth infantry, ide-de-camp. First Lieutenant Harry C. Benson, Fourth cav-aide-de-camp.

First Lieutenant Harry C. Benson, Fourth cavalry.

First Lieutenant Charles G. Treat, Fifth artillery, aide-de-camp.

First Lieutenant W. W. Forsyth, Sixth cavalry; Second Lieutenant Samuel Rodman, First artillery, aides-de-camps.

THE GRAND ARMY COLUMN.

General Floyd Clarkson's orders, as department commander of the G. A. R., issued day before yesterday, were in compliance with instructions from General Daniel Butterfield, Grand Marshal, but Major Chappell protested that as he is Grand Marshal af the New York division G. A. R. he was the proper collectation call out the city poets. The misunderstanding was settled at a meeting held at General Clarkson's house at midnight Tucsday. The Memorial Committee were represented by William MeEntee, Post 13; Past Department Commander James S. Fraser, Post 29; John J. Howes, Post 80; Joseph Forbes, Post 13, and William J. Kott, Post 42. Major Chappell was recognized as a division, instead of brigade commander, and General Clarkson issued the following special order yesterday:—

ed in special order of February 16, 1891, from hose headquarters. He will be obeyed and respected coordingly.

II.—in secondance with the orders of formation from eneral headquarters of the General Sherman obsequies be following is announced as the order of formation for no Grand Army column, which must be made promptly to one o'clock P. M., lith inst.

III.—The division under the command of Comradicated the consecution of the following order:—First sub-division on the east side of Eighth avenue, acing west, with right resting opposite Seventieth street and its line extending along the early of sidewalk, with off resting at opposite northwest corner of Sixty-sixth The second sub-division on the west side of Eighth venue facing cases, with right resting at northwest corner of Sixty-sixth street and Eighth avenue, and its line xeen ding along the curb with loft resting at southwest orner of Sixty-sixth street and Eighth avenue.

The third sub-division will be formed in Sixty-sixth street and Eighth avenue. After its ownsting at southwest corner of Sixty-sixth street and Eighth avenue. After its ownsting west toward Ninth avenue. After its ownstion in Sixty-sixth street the Division of the Sixty-sixth street and Eight will rest opposite Seventy-first street and lighth avenue.

The fourth seventer of the Gras sub-division, where its gift will rest opposite overty-first street and lighth avenue.

war, will ride in carriages immediately behind those of the relatives.

IN THE HOUSE OF DEATH. VAST CROWDS PASS IN REVIEW BEFORE THE COFFIN.

The warrior has laid down the sword And taken up the crown. A little bunch of violets lay upon the coffin lid yesterday, and on the black bordered card attending it were these simple words.

The tapers were burning low in the candelabra.

The secont will continue its march by Waverley place to Broadway, to Canal street, through Watts street to junction with West street.

Vetoran organizations not moving with column will form across West street from Watts street to the ferry landing, foot of Desbrosses street. The carriages in the procession will be restricted to the pallbearers, family and relatives and invited guests. The column will be commanded by Major General O. O. Howard, United States army.

Major General Daniel Butterfield is designated as senior aide to the General commanding and as marshal. away. Soldiers and policemen also stood guard, but none entered save with reverent spirit, and the kindly hospitality was not abused. PRESIDENT HARBISON'S TOKEN.

The day began in gloom and changed to balmy sunshine, and afterward to chill. The street was crowded with men of every character, all intent upon the drama which lay before them. Now and again a military uniform loomed above the manycolored raiment of the civilians, and the worn clothes of laborers, many of them wearing the unperchaseable buttons of the Grand Army, mingled with the silks and broadcloth of the well to do. It was a democratic crowd and a sorrowful one. The presence of death was in the very air, and but for the unseemly cries of the hawkers of photographs of the dead man there was nothing to mar the funereal character of the scene.

President Harrison has added to the floral display an immense bouquet of lillies of the valley, bounded by white roses, and surmounted by a word wrought in violets. This was placed by the head of the easket. A large pillow of white roses from Mrs. Wager Swayne was also added to the floral array as described in the linamy of yester-from Mrs. Wager Swayne was also added to the floral array as described in the Herald of yesterday.

An unwelcome guest.

A huge black dog, collarless but valuable, seemed possessed to follow the procession into the ho use. Again and again he was driven away, only to return again, crying bitterly when entrance was refused it, and it was not driven off until flually one of Captain Berghold's big policemen caught it and carried it away and locked it up life a malefactor. Up to one o'clock in the afternoon the people came no faster than they could be readily handled. The family had given orders to let all enter who wished, and a passage was made for them through the pariors and then out by the basement, thus giving a clear right of way to a line which could be kept constantly in motion.

By this time it was noised abroad that the body was lying in state and the throng grew large. All the neighborhood turned out and every clevated train brought added hundreds to the throng. The policemen formed a line which grow and grew until it extended clear around into Ninth avenue and reachest half way up to Seventy-second street.

Places on the funeral train have been reserved for the following:—Rev. T. E. Sherman, P. T. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Fitch, Mr. and Mrs. Thackars, Miss Shorman, Miss Rachel Sherman, Senator and Mrs. John Sherman, Mrs. Hoyt, Mrs. Whorg, General Eving, Miss Ewing, Mr. Charles Ewing, Mr. Henry Sherman, General and Mrs. N. A. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Frobasco, Mrs. Colgate Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Steele, General Schofield and aide, General Howard and aide, General Schomel J. M. Bason, Colonel L. M. Dayton and J. M. Barett.

At Columbus, Ohio, the funeral party will be joined by Colonel and Mrs. Bugst Edsabeth tuses, George P. R. Ewing, General and Mrs. Granger.

Control Howard yesterday gave orders that events to the control that control would be a party titled to ride in CLOSE ITS DOORS.

After a Slight Rally the American Loan and Trust Company Suffers a Relapse and Suspends Payment.

DEMANDS THAT PARALYZED IT.

They Amounted to $380,000, and the Concern Hadn't the Cash Requisite to Meet Them.

BROUGHT INTO COURT.

Judge Ingraham Applied to for an Injunction-Superintendent Preston's Statement as to the Company's Condition and Future Prospects.

The American Loan and Trust Company has closed its doors. The climax came at noon yesterday, and was caused by the presentation of three large checks from savings banks which had money on deposit with it. The company was unable to meet these drafts and closed its doors by order of the Superintendant of the Banking Department,

The three checks came from the Rochester Savings Bank, of Rochester; the Onondaga Savings Bank, of Syracuse, and the Union Dime Savings Bank, of this city. They called for the aggregate amount of $380,000, and under the law the company were obliged to pay them on demand and in cash. The statutes make savings banks' preferred creditors, and depositories cannot take the benefit of the five days' notice, which can be insisted upon in all

THEIR HUSTLING OF NO AVAIL. These demands were unexpected. As the HERALD explained yesterday the directors and stockholders had hustled around on Tuesday night and had ordinary demands which the day might bring. But they had intended to enforce the five day rule, and if it had not been that these savings banks had thought fit to demand their deposits the concern might have held out for another day. There were symptoms that the scare was abating, and when the doors were opened for business yesterday President Baldwin and the directors seemed to feel more sanguine than they did on Tuesday.

But when the mail brought in the checks from the out-of-town savings banks for $325,000, and when this was followed, soon after, by a demand for about $55,000 from the Union Dime Savings Bank, of Broadway and Thirty-third street, there was only one thing to do-to send for the Superintendent of Banking and to shut the doors, for the cash on hand was not sufficient to meet these checks by $200,000, and there was no way to stave off the payment.

Accordingly Superintendent Preston, who with Examiner Cahill had left the institution only a short time before (believing that the concern might pull through the day), was once more sent for and the situation explained to him. Of course he ordered the doors closed, and notified Deputy Attorney General William J. Lardner, who went to work to take the steps which the law requires to wind up an insolvent company.

DIRECTORS HOLD A PROTRACTED SESSION The directors of the company were hastily called together, and they held a long and anxious meeting to decide upon what was to be done. There was a difference of opinion as to what had taken place. Some of the gentlemen, who had taken place. Some of the igentiemen, who had been under a killing strain for many days past, caused by their desperate efforts to keep the company aftoat, openly expressed their relief that the end had come and that the affairs of the company were now in the hands of the State officials.

Other members of the Board expressed great regret at the collapse. They contended that if they could have weathered the present storm the stockholders could have much more advantageous terms in the proposed organization of the company, and that outstanding losans could have been called in and the obligations of the company provided for without much sacrifice.

But there was one point on which everybody was unanimous. It was agreed that the charter and plant of the institution were too valuable to be thrown away, and that there must be a reorganization and new management, and with a smaller capital. The general features of the proposed changes in the company were given in the Henald of yesterday.

it the company were given in the Hrhald of yesterday.

THERE MAY DE A CLEAN SWEEF.

The only modification was that some of the capitalists who propose to come to the relief of the company will make it a condition, it was said, that there shall be an entire change in the present theory of Directors. They will not be satisfied with the retirement of President Baldwin, Vice President Evans and Secretary Thurston, but will insist upon a clean sweep.

Some of the present officers denied that such a complete shake up would be made. They said that the new capitalists will be represented by additions to the present board, nearly all of whom are to remain, with the exception of Messrs, Baldwin, Evans and Thurston. The present board, they pointed out, consists of only twelve members, while their charter authorizes them to have twelty one.

while their charter authorizes them to have twelityone.

After several hours of conference behind closed doors, carefully guarded by Manager J. G. Hill, the directors emerged, looking rather more hopeful than when they went into session, for they had received assurances, they said, from a number of prominent and wealthy men that they stood ready to come in and put the concern on its feet again.

Meantime there was a good deal of curlosity in financial circles to know what the Bank Examiners had found as to the inside condition of the trust company. The suspension did not cause a ripple in Wall street so far as affecting prices or shaking confidence was, concerned, except to start a silly rumor as to the alleged unsafe condition of two other institutions. One was a bank and the other a trust company; but both concerns are known to every intelligent Wall street man to be so solid that the rumor carried with it its own contradiction.

the names and the amounts. I should have to go through a very long list and it would require a great deal of time. The assets owned by the company absolutely were bonds of various kinds, mostly good mortgages, bills receivable, bills purchased, cash on hand and cash due from the banks. The cash on hand that evening was only $11,820 °11. But they had in bank $296.085 °21. Among the bonds they owned were $125,000 in New York citys.

"The liabilities of of the company were:—Capital stock, $1,000,000; due depositors, $1,813,105 °54; teller's certificates of deposit, $1,159 °36; treasurer's checks entstanding, $10,000; making a total of liabilities of $2,74,827 °90.

"The apparent dedicioncy, according to our figures, is therefore $556,758 °2. It is proper, however, to say this:—That since the company closed their doors to-day I have been waited upon here by several large insuced me representing important corporations, and from what they have said to me I have very strong reasons to believe that it is possible that certain securities which I have estimated at a low figures may be paid to-morrow in this, if it is done, would raduce the deficiency to an amount equal to about $475,000.

"These same gentlemen, if that is done and cortain loans taken up, entertain very strong bones that the deficiency may then be made good by the stockholders, and the institution will then be placed on its feet again. Of course this for only alk, but it is the talk of men who don't talk for the sake of talk. They are all men of financial responsibility."

EVENT PRESSTOR MAY BE PAID IN PULLA.

"What will be the not result in any event? Will the depositors all be paid?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Freston, thoughtfully, "I believe that ever depositor will be paid in full, and if our estimates of value are correct there will be quite a good percentage left over for the atockholders."

"What about the reorganization which you have alluded to is it likely to be accomplished?"

restraining its officers, agents and attorneys from exercising any corporate power, from transacting any business or disposing of any of the property or assets, and why a receiver should not be appointed. Until the return day of the order the defendants are temporarily enjoined from transacting any business or disposing of or interfering with any of the property.

The complaint sets forth that the defendant is a demestic corporation which did business at No. 115 Broadway and is subject to examination by the State Banking Department. Superintendent Charles M. Preston had an examination made of its affairs and learned that the defendant had committed various violations of its charter and the law, and that it had been conducting business in an unsafe and unauthorized manner. It is also law; and that it had been conducting business in an unsafe and unauthorized manner. It is also alleged that it is unsafe and inexpedient to permit the company to transact business and that the company is inservent, nnable to pay it obligations and guilty of twiolating its charter. The complaint demands judgment that the chartes be vacated, its corporate existence annulled, its officers and agents permanently enjoined and a permanent receiver appointed. The suit was brought by Atterney General Tabor upon the facts obtained by Superintendent Presson from his examiners and communicated to him.

The statement of the bank examiners concerning the company's affairs is as follows:—

Northerney Agents.

The Statement of the Company's affairs is as follows:

Pair Pair Value.

Now York city bonds. $125,000 Total $2,108,038 08 $1,000,000 06 1,813,165 51 1,150 38 10,800 00

BALDWIN CHARGED WITH FRAUD. IN HAVING CONSPIRED TO ABSORB TWO BAIL-

Deficit...... $656,780 82

WAY SIGNAL COMPANIES. In various motions and counter motions in the courts a pretty thorough mutilation has already been given to the legal unpleasantness between James C. Mix, of the New York Life Insurance of the find the company; but both concerns are known to the find the number carried with it its own contradiction.

Wall street discounts everything. The failure of the American Lean and Trust surprised no well informed banker or operator, and, while its an ununcement was followed by no bad affocts, owny body wanted to hear from Supenitentical Preston.

But Mr. Freston was clossed all the afternoon with the officers and directors of the company being the closed doors. He couldn't be got at until after six o'clock last night, and then he was rather sand concervative in his uttrannes. This is what he said in answer to my questions—cautious and concervative in his uttrannes. The couldn't be got at unit and the same of the company of t